

Con Ovnicek ~ Master Horse Trainer

To say that Con Ovnicek's career with horses has been interesting is to greatly understate the case!

Con has done it all over the years—horse racing, breeding, showing in Western and English classes, jumping, horseshoeing, and riding in rodeos.

“When I was 13 years old, I had a paper route, saved up $100, and asked my dad if I could buy a horse. He agreed but cautioned me that they cost a lot to take of. I found out they cost more than my paper route could support. I began taking in horses to train or fix. That's how I got started training. When you raise a family training horses, you wind up taking what you can get. I now feel that broad assortment of experiences has been a real learning opportunity.”
